

Just a lil ol' country girl from Dallas, Texas, Amber Strauser is sizzling red hot! Amber entertained fans on the sidelines at Texas Stadium as a Dallas Cowboys Cheerleader for two seasons while studying pre-med at Southern Methodist University. At SMU, she entered the Ms. SMU Body Building 2000 competition and won the title and "Best Poser" award; these accomplishments sparked her interest to attain her personal training and yoga certifications.

Amber placed school on hold to perform on cruise ships traveling the world for a year and a half. She then took a contract as a showgirl in a magic show at "Sandcastle" located on the tropical island of Saipan. She was also a showgirl in "Midnight Fantasy" at the Gold Strike Casino in Tunica, Mississippi. Next, Amber relocated to Lake Tahoe to star in a dance production called "Party Girls" at Harvey's Casino. She then toured Italy in a cabaret show entitled "Made In America." She's lived and performed in Thessaloniki, Greece as "Pain" from the Las Vegas vampire show "Bite" and recently completed a long run in Fantasy at the Luxor Casino in Las Vegas. Finally, Amber headlined in Atlantic City at famed burlesque nightclub creator "Ivan Kane's Royal Jelly" and currently she can be seen performing in the Prince tribute show "Purple Reign" in Las Vegas!

Since her move to Los Angeles in 2004, Amber was a member of the Lingerie Football League's team Dallas Desire. You can watch her weekly on Fit TV network's reality show "The Gym." She co-starred in season 5 of "Nip Tuck" and season 1 of "The Defenders," and in Mariah Carey's music video "I Stay In Love." Be sure to pick up Charles Band horror film "Ooga Booga" where Amber opens the film! She guides you through terrain as a cycle instructor on Proform's Tour de France indoor bike. For the past year, Amber has been the on camera spokesperson for Las Vegas' Hyundai commercials as well as hosting on-camera for various companies. You may have even seen Amber dancing along side Trace Adkins and Toby Keith on the "Academy of Country Music Awards" as well as Billy Ray Cyrus on "Nashville Star." Amber has performed in the most magical place in the world, "Disneyland" in Paris and on Disney Channel's "Wizard's Of Waverly Place." Amber toured as a dancer for four years with Feld Motor Sports freestyle motocross show "Nuclear Cowboyz."

She's the centerfold model for the Eagles of Death Metal "Heart On" album and has four Benchwarmer collectors' cards. If you are a fighter fan, you probably saw Amber's featured article in "Real Fighter Magazine," as well as in "Muscular Development" and "Lindy's Pro Football" magazines. She has entertained U.S. Armed Forces thirteen times in such countries as Iraq, Afghanistan, Bosnia, Korea, Germany, Macedonia, Albania, and Japan.

Apart from being a dancer, she has dabbled in choreography as well. At 18 years old, she was 1 of 17 dancers out of the entire USA to win national honors and a scholarship with her jazz choreography through NFAA. She then choreographed several routines for the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders USO tours and halftime shows for the Dallas Desperados Arena Football Dancers. She's choreographed a couple routines for the sexy Italian burlesque show "Made In America" and for L.A. based dance troupe Purrfect Angelz, and her choreography is showcased in Las Vegas at the Luxor Hotel in "Fantasy!"

When she is not performing, she's hanging with her three giant dogs, working on completing a business degree, inspiring riders on a bike at SoulCycle, and running her art biz 'Heel Time!' With the help of family and friends, she has been able to award aspiring young dancers financial scholarships over the past 9 years through Company B and Amber Strauser Scholarships!
